Dahmer in hospital

By Brenda Romanchuk
St. Paul Journal

John Dahmer, Progressive Conservative candidate for the Beaver River Riding, has been admitted to hospital for brief testing where he will be resting for several days. This was a press release issued by Dahmer's Elk Point office on Monday, October 31. Dahmer is presently a patient in the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton.

Billie Milholland, Media Relations Agent for Dahmer, states that workers will continue canvassing door-to-door and other campaign duties in his absences.

It is not known, because of his hospitalization, exactly when Dahmer will be returning to active campaigning.

When questioned as to why Dahmer has refused to participate in several local forums, Milholland stated that Dahmer does not believe forums are an effective way to reach the majority of people. He feels he can reach more people with door-to-door canvassing and that has been the style of campaigning they are focusing on. Milholland indicated that because the area is so large they have to implement new

ERCB reports released

Draft reports on Surface Casing Requirements and Well Completion Requirements were presented to the public at an open house at King George Hall on the blustery evening of October 26, offering those present an opportunity for public input into the findings.

The committee which prepared both reports consisted of representatives of the Energy Resources Conservation Board, Alberta Environment, Amoco Canada, Dome Petroleum, Murphy Oil, Pan Canadian Petroleum and Westmin Resources.

The reports stemmed from numerous applications from the oil industry for reductions in surface casing requirements due to both technical and economic reasons. Many of the requests were approved, which led the ERCB to form this committee to consider reductions on a field-wide basis.

The objectives of the committee were to identify the surface casing requirements necessary for both well control and the protection of potable groundwaters, and to consider alternatives which would ensure both if the requirements are reduced. The scope of the committee included all wells involved in the recovery of hydrocarbons, including production and injection wells, of both conventional and thermal type.

Findings of the committee were illustrated by means of a series of diagrams and graphs, which pertained to the groundwater and well completion aspects.

The recommendations which evolved from the study are based on the belief that both objectives can be achieved through the use of a diverter system and conductor pipe, and that the surface casing requirements in the Lindbergh field can be waived, subject to a series of conditions. (Cont. on Page 2) campaign strategies to enable them to reach more people in the time given.

Dahmer has agreed to appear on two radio shows as he believes these programs will have a wide listening audience. Lac La Biche radio station, Native Perspective, had an interview scheduled with Dahmer on October 31st, but because of his hospitalization have had to postpone to a later date. Radio LW of St. Paul will be featuring Dahmer during an hour long on-line show November 18, from 1:00 - 2:00 p.m..

Milholland states they are aware of the importance of the public gaining knowledge about the candidates and their opinions on the issues arising during this election campaign. The St. Paul Journal and Lakeland Review will be interviewing the candidates of the Beaver River Riding and featuring these profiles in upcoming weeks. It is expected that Dahmer, the Progressive Conservative candidate, will be included.

ERCB releases reports

For all wells, these include Flow Diverter well control systems which must meet ERCB regulations, with a minimum diverter flow line diameter of 152 mm., a total well depth reaching no more than 5 meters into the Devonian formation, and special caution when drilling close to wells on primary production, because of the potential for lost circulation. For wells being drilled close to wells being cycled between steam injection and production operations, the operator should determine a safe distance from the nearby steam injection wells and obtain ERCB approval on a case-specific basis. When conductor pipe is used instead of surface casing, the operator is still responsible for well control, keeping groundwater free from contamination and providing any necessary work to maintain these standards.

For thermal wells, there are also detailed specifications for production casing and the cement for its installation, along with a requirement for the implementation of a system for early detection of casing failures during steam injection.

Copies of both drafts are available at Elk Point Public Library for further study by those unable to attend the open house.

Red Cross tea successful

By Irene Magnusson

October 22 was a cold and blustery day, after a long spell of good fall weather, still the Elk Point and District Red Cross drew enough supporters in from the cold to ring up a successful afternoon.

With plenty of help from the Lindbergh Red Cross ladies, for which the Elk Point group give much thanks, and the good strong arms and willing work of a couple of young Red Cross fellows, who helped set up the tables and assisted in any way they could, the effort proceeded well. Red Cross also appreciates the donation of the United Church Hall, and the kitchen, and thanks are extended to that group for the cooperation.

Individually, each effort may have seemed small, but in total the results were gratifying. A smaller crowd than usual meant a bit less at the Tea table, bringing in a total of $37.50. The White Elephant table sales amounted to $50.95, not bad when one considers items donated for sale are small, and priced very low.

The Home Baked table netted

$57.25, (delicious carrot muffins!!!) thanks to the good cooks who kindly donated baked goods. But the real 'booster' of the day was the Bazaar and Crafts table, with a whopping $260.90 sold. A wall-full of quilts and afghans was considerably depleted, after the sale of two quilts and four afghans, plus many smaller items created by the ladies of the district.

The grand total of the day's work—and it is not really just 'two hours'—(and the many hours put in creating items for sale), was $406.60, which will be transferred to Red Cross headquarters (where it is eligible to be doubled by a matching grant from the government) who in turn will apply it to the greatest need in the many helpful projects carried out by Red Cross around the world.

The Elk Point and Lindbergh Red Cross Branches are to be commended and well may be proud of the efforts they put into fundraising for this very good cause year after year.

Crime fighters

Compared to many parts of the world, we live in a safe environment. We have no gang wars, no race riots, no freeway sharpshooters, no subway muggers.

We are not obliged to lock ourselves in our urban homes in broad daylight, or to reinforce the security systems for our businesses with iron-barred doors, such as is common in many large urban centres across North America.

For this, we can thank those individuals who spend their lives upholding our country's laws: our local RCMP detachment, who continue their age-old tradition of always getting their culprit, and the volunteer groups who make their job a little easier.

Block parents make it safer for children to make their way to and from school, as do school safety patrols.

Rural Crime Watch Associations keep an eye on their neighborhood, in much the same way Neighborhood Watch does in towns and cities, and report suspicious vehicles, unusual occurrences and abnormal activities they observe, thus preventing thefts, livestock rustling and vandalism.

A similar service is provided in the oilpatch by Patch Watch volunteers, and in summer vacationing areas by Cottage Watch groups.

Also upholding the laws of the province are such personnel as Fish and Wildlife officers, who strive to prevent poaching and out-of-season harvesting of nature's bounty, and brand inspectors, who make sure that the person selling a cow or horse is its rightful owner.

We can help to make the job of our guardians of public safety less arduous, by respecting and following the laws of the land, and by teaching our children to do likewise.

Have a safe and law-abiding Crime Prevention Week, everyone.

HALLOWEEN STORYTIME--at Elk Point Public Library saw everyone, including Librarian Doreen Mayner and her staff, dressed up for the occasion. Special stories, games and a puppet show entertained the crowd of ghosts, goblins and other assorted creatures.

Trails of poetry...

The Black Cat's Ride

A thin black cat
Wore a witch's hat
And roamed the sky on a broom;
In spite of the dark
He tried to park
But that darkness led to doom.

With eyes like slits
He was having fits
As he struggled to bring his broom down;
He banged into trees
And skinned all four knees
Which caused that black cat to frown.

Joy held up her hand
And gave a command
'Kitty, Kitty, come here!' she said;
An obedient cat
Kitty landed Kersplat!
So Joy tucked him safely in bed.

Moon Shadows

Moon shadows, lying fringed across the snow
Some in dark long strips filled with promises--of other nights when dreams lay warm on summer lawns Curled and whispery and sweet
With same old moon soft slithering behind wool white clouds

And here and there a pale wish-on star, resting its light Until a later night when moon is gone and stars alone try in vain to emulate that moon and paint star shadows where anon
Moon shadows lie
Across the sparkling snow.
...Irene Magnusson

The Old Things

There are a few old things out in the shed-- used by the hand of man to shape and smooth to cut and hold the old-days works of man.

That saw, created to cut deep ice (for the pioneer had no fridge but used what he had--winter's cold stored for next summer's heat)--

There lies the last...three sizes-- and a stand. Dad resoled shoes for his brood, and replaced the scuff-cast heels.

Over her, spike-attached to studding is the coffee mill: in the past Grandma ground beans, plump and brown-- rich aroma brought us from our beds when she gave her breakfast call.

...Irene Magnusson

Little tools; the cream skimmer, made to lift cream from atop white milk cooled overnight in many flat pans.
There a part of the old barrel churn, staves long since dried out and fallen-- metal crank still hanging on a peg.

A coal oil lantern, dark with years of soot,
hangs near, frazzled wick still in place;
And over there the rusty scythe, which cut weeds and grass around the yard long before lawn mowers were contrived.

That blue enamelled dipper once hung by the curb of that old well, cold sweet water for the parched thresher dipped from the wooden pail.

Square nails, made by hand from a certain wire...patient, gnarled and callused hands--work-willing hands... yet hands eager to try new ways, devise new tools, to better do the age-old tasks... until at last those tasks--like the hands bent to them--became old and obsolete.

What's news... at the Library

Witches, lions and creatures of all sorts invaded the storyline hour, Friday morning at 10:30. In this fun filled hour we had a puppet show, 'Joey the Jack-O-Lantern' followed by games, prizes and treats for all. The 30 children who attended had a great time. Most everyone was in costume, including the librarian and her assistants. Leanna Longpre won the book prize for putting the nose on the pumpkin.

At 2:00 in the afternoon, we had a Halloween matinee featuring: Halloween is Grinch night, The Legend of Sleepy Hollow and Ichabode Crane. We had 35 children in attendance who ate their popcorn and were enthralled with the movies. Next Friday there will be another kids' matinee after school, at 3:30 p.m.. Watch this column every week to check for future movies.

NEW BOOKS

We have five new books by Dorothy Gilman, all about an elderly lady who decides her life is boring and dull, so she sets out to become a spy for the CIA. By a chance of fate, the CIA actually sends her on a spying job and how she carries out her assignment for them is cause for much amusement. The first of the series is called The Unexpected Mrs. Polifax.

ALASKA by James Mitchener is now in the library. An epic novel of how Alaska was first discovered and settled, this includes the ownership by the Russians and how they sold it to the Americans. Most American people thought that the government was crazy to purchase Alaska.

A Glimpse of Stocking by Elizabeth Gage—a stunning novel of chilling violence and red-hot passion, ambition and revenge, and the dark and deadly secrets of the past. Three unforgettable women, capable of unforgivable acts, their destinies are headed for a collision course that will leave the readers breathless and gasping for more.

In Memoriam

GARNIER, Louis J.

In memory of Louis J. Garnier, who passed away on this day in 1986. Time speeds on, two years have passed. Since death its gloom, it shadow cast within our home, where all seemed bright.

And took from us a shining light, We miss that light, and ever will, His vacant place there is none can fill.

Down here we mourn, but not in vain, For up in heaven we will meet again.

Fully Alive in northeast Alberta

By Irene Magnusson

A new dimension has been added to the lives of some 18 persons who attended the session of 'Fully Alive,' delivered by its instigator, Jeanne Schnell, in an eighteen hour course last week in Bonnyville.

The programme, written in a step-by-step format by the former nurse, is designed primarily for seniors, to help them get the very most out of their lives that they can. Participants in the Bonnyville course were from several walks of life—seniors interested in bettering their lot, some planning to offer it in their areas as a winter course, leaders of seniors' groups and a few who work with seniors and shut-ins, hoping to gain insight into the problems they will face.

Mrs. Schnell, who lives in Calgary, and worked with disturbed and depressed patients, was struck by the great deal of work that is done to care for patients—AFTER they have become ill—as compared to how little is done to keep them healthy BEFORE they slip into ill health and depression.

Her theory centres on health for the whole person, diet, exercise, outlook, loneliness, aloneness, emotions, and many others. Seniors—or anyone—can learn that ALL their emotions are OK, not just the good ones (it's all right to be sad, or angry, as well as hopeful and joyful).

A few of the assertions of the course are: 'Laughter is the best medicine,' 'Water is the Elixir of Life,' and 'Walking is the best exercise' we can do. Nothing very hard about those statements, yet it is surprising how many of us do not use them to their full, and thus allow our lives to lack the very best health we could enjoy.

Participants were from Ashmont, Athabasca, Bonnyville, Cold Lake, Elk Point, Consort, Vermilion, Vilna and Waskatenau, and included several men. Most of the sessions were held in the Lakeland Motel, with one session and an honorary supper with all the fixings held in the Bonnyville Seniors' Drop-In Centre, where they were joined by various VIPs and heard several addresses.

The 'Fully Alive' programme is sponsored in the Lakeland by the Alberta Council on Aging, is not a government sponsored programme, and could be taken by anyone—not necessarily seniors, although it is usually seniors who drop into depression, loneliness and other 'what's-the-use' attitudes, as they struggle with all the changes of aging.

It is hoped that the programme will be offered in your area at some not-too-distant date. If it is, and you can possibly make it, do take it in. Especially if you are one who—as opposed to being 'half-dead'—would like to be FULLY ALIVE!

Auxiliary plans for Christmas

By Irene Magnusson

The October 24 meeting of the Auxiliary saw a small display of 'tray favor' items brought forth for members' viewing and choosing, especially for the Christmas trays. Candy containers of a seasonal theme are made each year by the group for the hospital patients' trays. The ladies are always on the lookout for new ideas. After a certain item is chosen, materials must be purchased and a day set for creating the novelties.

Canteen sales have been slow, and goods for sale are low, Violet McFadyen reported. There is a need for warm gloves, mitts, scarves—and especially—slippers, all hand-made articles which have been generously donated by members and non-members alike. A suggestion was made that the canteen carry more toilet articles, combs, toothpaste, etc., as these are requested by the patients.

A History of the Alberta Hospital Auxiliaries Association has been received, together with promotional material, posters, etc., and a suggestion that these be mounted for public information. This will be done. Volunteers were again requested to attend the Regional Conference in Two Hills, Thursday, November 17, as well as to attend the Annual Convention in Edmonton later in the month.

Auxiliary members are encouraged to visit the patients, especially the long-term patients, and to take part in special programs, such as reading, music, singing, etc., as many of these patients have few visitors, and time passes slowly for them. Christmas may be an extra-lonely time for some.

An attractive and colorful hooked rug was donated, to be raffled in the spring. Thanks are extended to the donor of this lovely creation.

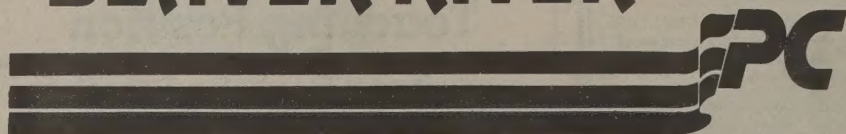

The November meeting will be on the 28th, at 7:00 p.m., to allow time for members to make the tray favor items; materials will be on hand.

McFadyen reported that the wall plaque listing the Auxiliary's contributions to the Hospital will be updated, and perhaps a bit more space added to the canteen, welcomed news to the members who work in and try to keep the canteen open as many days of the week as possible.

The War Amputations of Canada

a tradition of amputees helping amputees

War Amps Chief Executive H. Clifford Chadderton and Champ Karl de Wit have something in common — they're both amputees. The War Amps was first established in 1918 to assist amputee veterans. Now the war amputees pass their many years of experience along to the younger generation through the Child Amputee (CHAMP) Program. Champs receive artificial limbs, counselling and financial assistance.

What is our future? When there are no longer war amputees, we will become the Canadian Amputees Foundation. Graduates of our CHAMP Program will carry on The War Amps tradition of amputees helping amputees.

Teachers attend Professional Development Day

By Brenda Romanchuk

St. Paul Journal

"Tell me why and how - I've got a billion things to learn.", this was the theme for the teacher's Professional Development Day held at St. Paul Regional High School on October 28, 1988. Approximately 320 members from Alberta Teachers Association St. Paul Local No. 26 and Two Hills Local No. 36, replaced their students in the classroom desks for a day of learning. Teachers of today face new, great challenges in knowing what is most important to teach students when they ask, "Tell me why and how..."

Keynote speaker for this year's program was Dr. Carroll Ganam, a practicing psychologist in family therapy from Edmonton. Dr. Ganam gave two presentations, one on the evening of October 27th open to parents and teachers, and also the opening session for all teachers on October 28th. The focus of both sessions was The Child's World: Family - School Interface. Dr. Ganam used humour, real life situations and her impressive knowledge in describing to her audiences how a child's world consists primarily of his/her family. What happens in that family influences a child's behavior and attitude outside the home. Every family has rules and a child can only cooperate with the school to the extent allowed by those rules. Parents must realize how they affect their child's learning abilities and strive to give them a solid foundation in their early years to build on. Teachers have to understand the dynamics that happen in a student's home and expand their knowledge to include family aspects. In today's world with high divorce rates and increased unemployment creating many troubled homes, this is extremely difficult. Dr. Ganam urged that parents and teachers work together for the good of the children.

John Cabaj was the speaker for a well attended session on Professional Longevity Under Stress (PLUS). This talk was of interest for those wanting to know more about stress, good and bad. Perhaps the high attendance was indicative of the pressures in modern society's schools.

Another talk of special interest was Dr. Rose Marie Hague's Good Grief: Positive Approaches. The subject was helping children grieve well and an outline of an approach for school settings was presented.

The list of speakers and sessions was extensive. Chairpersons; Gurcharn Anand, Olga Melnyk and Nestor Saski, plus all those on the Professional Development Committee, are commended for their efforts in arranging a well-rounded, informative program. Days of learning such as these for the teachers, result in years of improved learning for our children.

4-H Light Horse Club news

Parents and interested students are invited to attend an information meeting of the Elk Point Saddle Slickers 4-H Light Horse Club, Monday, November 7, 7:00 p.m. at the Elk Point Public Library.

The purpose of the club is to promote better riding skills and understanding of the art of horsemanship.

Safety in handling and working around horses will be stressed, first and foremost. Along with understanding horse psychology, nutrition and health, you can learn basic riding techniques and training skills, that can lead to successful showing, reining, cutting, working with cattle, calf roping, timed speed events, barrels, poles, etc., or just pleasurable trail riding on a well broken and dependable horse.

This year we plan to have more horse-related field trips and clinics.

We will also be incorporating Canadian Equestrian Federation (CEF) standards in our program, encouraging participation in the Rider Levels I-IV and certification of these.

To belong to the 4-H Club you must be between 10 and 14 years of age to be a Junior, or 14 to 21 years to be a Senior. Our club does allow PeeWee members under 10 years of age but only with parental supervision.

If you are interested in horses and wish to learn better horsemanship, come out and join us for coffee and doughnuts on Monday, November 7 at 7:00 p.m. at the Public Library.

New pastor for Lea Park

Bethel Lutheran Church of Lea Park has a new pastor. That's one of the many changes that have been happening recently in the congregation.

Sister Monica Denk was commissioned to provide pastoral services for the congregation in September by Bishop Robert Jacobson. Previously, Lea Park had shared its pastor with Zion Lutheran of McLaughlin. When Pastor Rick Bergh moved to Brooks in April, two pastors were called, so that each congregation could be served by one pastor.

Pastor Christine Nojonen arrived in McLaughlin in August and provided interim assistance for Lea Park until Sister Monica's arrival.

As a Lutheran deaconess, Sister Monica brings a background in both social work and parish work. Before moving to Marwayne, she served with church related ministries to mentally handicapped adults and to seniors, as well as congregations in Edmonton, Wainwright, Irma and Fort McMurray.

The congregation is looking forward to celebrating 75 years of ministry in the area. Services were first held in the North Park School in 1915. In 1986, the school building was moved to the site of the church. Members have been making improvements to the church and school, including the repainting of both buildings.

NEW PASTOR--Sister Monica Denk of Bethel Lutheran, Lea Park.

Scouting Ass'n invests new members

THEIR NIGHT TO HOWL—Cubs Regan Nelson, Jamie Yake and Matthew Nixon welcomed new members Russell Dale, Lance Gibson, Nathan Harper and Michael Reed and new Cubmaster Ray Gibson to the pack with a rousing Grand Howl.

Elk Point Scouting Association invested a number of new members last Tuesday night, with a new honorary chaplain and a new leader among those welcomed to the sixty-year-old organization.

District Commissioner Roxanne Ringuette was on hand to present the troop's colors to Honorary Chaplain, Rev. Sam Donaldson, and to new Scouter Ray Gibson.

Two new Beavers, Peter Danyluk and Spencer Easthope, were invested, with a third, Aaron King, who transferred from the St. Paul Beavers, receiving the colors. The three joined the lone previous Beaver, Bryce Sereda, and leader Orest Sereda, in an enthusiastic ritual of celebration.

New Wolf Cubs Russell Dale, Lance Gibson and Nathan Harper, along with Michael Reed, who transferred from the North Pembina pack, were heartily welcomed by Cubs Regan Nelson, Jamie Yake and Matthew Nixon, and new Cubmaster Ray Gibson, with all taking part in a joyous Grand Howl.

Four new Boy Scouts were also invested: Tommy Rae, Irwin Easthope, Cameron Zarowny and Clayton McGinnis. They join Darren Pilisko, David McNamara and Dean Berg, and leaders Wayne McNamara and Pat Johnson.

District Commissioner Ringuette congratulated Scoutmaster McNamara on a recent leadership course he successfully completed, and also announced that Scouts Dean Berg, Darren Pilisko and David McNamara will all be taking part in the 1989 National Jamboree in Prince Edward Island. The three are among 185 Alberta Scouts chosen at a selection camp from among 300 delegates, with criteria such as camping skills, teamwork, and leadership. The selection of all three 'says a lot for what's going on in Scouting in Elk Point,' Ms. Ringuette noted.

The evening ended with audience-participation entertainment in the form of an action song and a hilarious skit involving a number of the parents in an old fashioned melodrama.

HONORARY CHAPLAIN—Rev. Sam Donaldson of Elk Point United Church receives his troop colors from District Commissioner Roxanne Ringuette.

EAGER BEAVERS—Peter Danyluk, Bryce Sereda, Aaron King and Spencer Easthope and leader Orest Sereda are ready for a year of exciting activities.
